A new report released by Rep. Waxman assesses the progress of reconstruction in Iraq. The report finds that despite the expenditure of billions of dollars, Administration objectives set two years ago have not been met and measurable improvements in the critical oil, electricity, and water sectors are small or nonexistent. Documents and Links

- Report: Failing Iraq Reconstruction
- Rep. Waxman's Statement on Failing Iraq Reconstruction