Rep. Waxman reveals that a Halliburton subsidiary has received $425 million from the Army for work in Iraq under a little-known but lucrative contract called "LOGCAP." It appears that much, if not all, of this work was awarded to Halliburton without competition from other qualified companies. Documents and Links

- Letter to Acting Secretary of the Army