Rep. Waxman strongly urges that the EPA renounce a dangerous proposal that would eliminate the national ambient air quality standards for lead air pollution. These standards provide a baseline of public health protection throughout the country against highly toxic lead air pollution. Yesterday the Agency released a staff paper that announced it would consider revoking the national standard for lead. Documents and Links

- Rep. Waxman's letter to EPA Administrator Johnson