In response to Rep. Waxman's questions about FDA's response to reports that certain women's multivitamins were contaminated with lead, FDA writes that the matter is still being investigated. Documents and Links

- FDA's Response Letter