

In light of new information that between 8 and 12 White House officials had e-mail accounts provided to them by the Bush Cheney '04 campaign, Chairman Waxman writes to the campaign's attorneys requesting basic information about the use of these accounts. He also requests copies of e-mails related to the use of federal agencies and federal resources for partisan political purposes. Documents and Links

- Letter to Campaign Attorneys