

In letters to the White House and the National Archives, Chairman Waxman asks whether the White House has preserved its records according to the obligations of the Presidential Records Act, and what the White House has done to prepare for the transition of presidential records to the Archives in January 2009.

Documents and Links

- Letter to Allen Weinstein, Archivist of the United States
- Letter to Fred Fielding, White House Counsel